Cirque Grégoire/Flatiron Work's Inc., presents "Evening Pursuit", a selection from "Rapunzel's Blues", (a dreamwork in progress) as the introduction to Dr. Stuart Grayson's Sunday Lecture, Suzanne Grégoire, director, choreographer, and founder of Cirque Grégoire has especially choreographed this spectacle to be presented at three high visibility locations such as Belvedere Castle in Central Park.

This performance will include an aluminum sculpture by the artist Phyllis Mark (Soho 20 Gallery). It is a "Sun Chariot" in brightly painted colors that has 5 1/2' wheels with a banner that extends to 9'.

The dancers are Stephanie Godino, Suzanne Grégoire, Jim Pratzon, Sharon Sakai, and the younger professional children (8 and 10 years) Gena Marie Huaman, Diana Gallo, Celeste Goch and Naomi Taylor.

Marcella Corvino designed the headdress and the music composed by Mike Alleyne.
